“Every year September Almaty is associated with KazBuild exhibition. For all enterprises that are related to construction industry (design, exterior and interior decoration), this is a unique platform for both beginners and existing companies, where exhibitors can demonstrate their new products, technological capabilities and their status. And exhibition is always interesting to the final consumer. I believe that holding of such an exhibition allows Kazakhstan to reach international level, because there are a lot of foreign partners who can show our domestic products, share experience and sign contracts”
