OVERVIEW

As the pharmaceutical and biotechnology industries continue to evolve at an unprecedented pace, INTERPHEX remains an indispensable platform for driving innovation, knowledge exchange, and collaboration. This year highlighted groundbreaking developments in advanced manufacturing, aseptic processing, and cell and gene therapy, all while driving dialogue on pivotal topics such as compliance and supply chain resilience.

This will be my third year at INTERPHEX and the level of the contacts and stakeholders that we meet here are of a very good level. It's a platform where you can meet everyone from the industry. From companies producing machinery and instruments to OEM's and end-users.
